

Declaration of confidentiality

During my assignment as Consultant for Innovation Norway, I may be provided with or have access to confidential information.

I am aware that Innovation Norway to a great extent deals with confidential information. Furthermore, I am aware of the statutory requirements on secrecy in the Act on Innovation Norway, Section 27, where the first sentence has the following wording:

“Any person employed by or with position of trust in the company has an obligation to keep secret anything he or she in his position gains knowledge of regarding third parties, trade matters or private matters/relations unless he or she is obliged to give out the information according to law.”

I hereby declare that I am aware that the secrecy obligations in the Act on Innovation Norway, Section 27 applies accordingly to me, and that I fully and trustworthy will comply with the obligations. Furthermore, I am aware that I have a corresponding secrecy obligation with respect to trade matters and information regarding Innovation Norway itself.

I commit myself to keep all information (on paper or electronically) I receive sufficiently secret.

I undertake not to remove documents from Innovation Norway's systems/archives/premises/offices. When the consultant services have been rendered, I undertake to return all information and material of any kind I have received or produced in connection with the consultancy work.

Confidential information provided to me by Innovation Norway will solely be used in connection with the assignment for Innovation Norway.

I am aware that the secrecy obligation also applies after the consultancy services have been rendered.

I am aware that any breach of this declaration of secrecy may result in liability for damages and punishment.
